

HOWL AT THE (BLUE) MOON!

WORK IS KIND OF CRAZY WITH A SPOOKY CUSTOMER LIKE YOU!

TIME TO WINTERIZE!

If you are parking your RV until warmer weather, don't forget to winterize. There are many online videos and instruction infographics (like this one here), if you want to do it yourself but don't know how. If you're not as comfortable with the procedure, you can always bring it in, and we would be happy to do it for you, or teach you how to do it :)

MEET YOUR TECH: JOSH BISHOP

Q: How long have you been working at Blue Moon?

A: 2 years in January.

Q: What is your favorite thing about working for BMMR?

A: I love the small family atmosphere and bond we all form working on issues together. Our creativity knows no bounds. Also, working along side our canine staff is a great way to put a smile on the most down occasions. Never a dull moment when we come together. At the end of the day we are a family; a family from different worlds and experiences that comes together under one place.

Q: If you were able to go on any road trip, where would you go and what rig would you take?

A: I personally would use a Grand Design Imagine. A small bumper trailer with 3 slides... The better questions would be, "Where I would not go?" I would love to take the family and disappear in the back country of Utah or Montana. Our goal is to experience the places that we have not seen in the continental US, then branch out from there.

Q: What do you do when you aren't working?

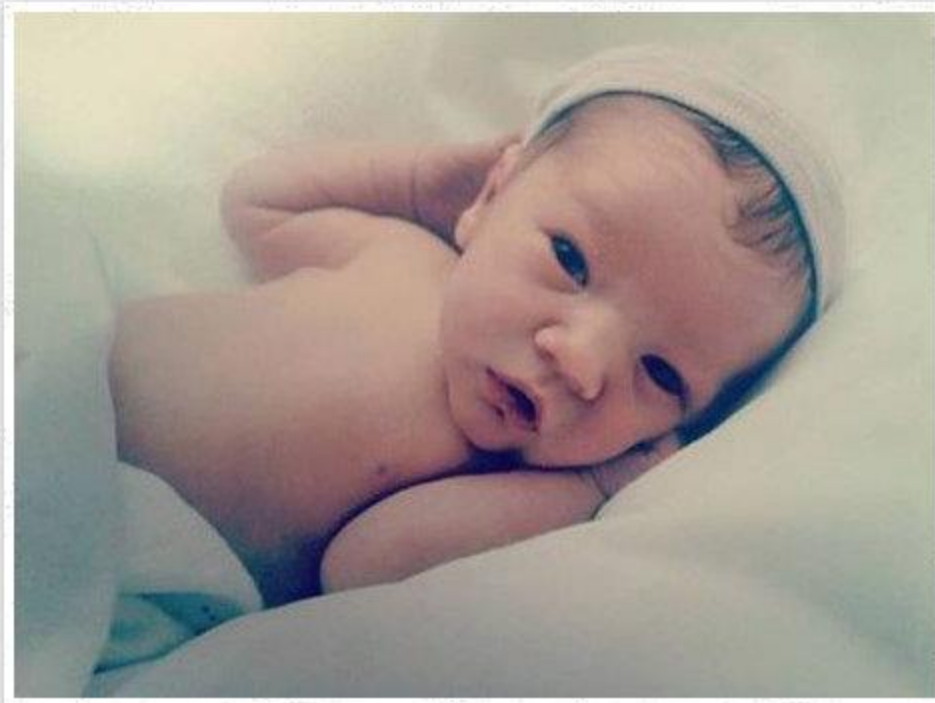

A: Well, right now when I'm not at work, Alex and I are pretty much busy with a newborn at home. Hopefully we can both enjoy a full night's sleep soon.

P.S.- A very big congratulations to Josh and Alex and their sweet new baby boy!
